ESTEEMED LADY GOES TO REWARD

MRS. FRANK BOWLES DIES FOLLOWING ILLNESS OF FLU AND PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Frank Bowles, an esteemed lady of Claremont, and well known in Groton, having lived here during her girlhood, passed away last Friday, following an illness of flu-pneumonia, which she contracted while attending a sick friend.

Mrs. Bowles was born in St. Ansear, Iowa, in 1879, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hatton. She came to South Dakota with her parents when three years old and they settled on a farm southeast of Groton. The family lived here for some years, and in 1906 she was married to Frank Bowles, now of Claremont. Prior to her marriage the deceased taught school in this vicinity, and at times did photographic work in this vicinity. She was a very lovable character and has a host of friends who sincerely mourn her loss.

Surviving her are her husband and three brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Thomas, John and George Hatton, and the sisters, Mrs. Anna Bandimere of Golden, Colo., and Mrs. Grace Fortune, of Hugo, Colo.

The funeral was held Sunday from the Methodist church of Claremont, of which she was a member, conducted by Rev. Stevens. Interment was made in Groton cemetery.
